DESSA (born Deborah Sharon Abeles) grew up in a segregated society. Her art reflects her personal search to unite, crossing cultural boundaries. Works in Switzerland and Berlin.

"In this project "Composition", two separate pieces of music by Detlev Glanert and Unsuk Chin are brought together to form the basis from which my art evolves. The two compositions appeal differently to my spiritual and emotional universe, providing complementary types of energy. I move from expressing extraversion, to introversion. Building bridges between the musical compositions embodies an ultimate freedom in the creative process".
